

A dynamic splash of clear water is the central focus of the image. The water is captured in mid-air, with several droplets and a larger, curved splash at the bottom. The background is a light, pale blue gradient. The text is overlaid on the water splash.

Los Angeles

Splash

magazines

You noticed that step two was to Balance your skin after shaving and we don't want to waste all that love you are giving to your face by using a typical shaving cream to do take care of the most painful part of taking care of your face. Organic Grooming by Herban Cowboy has created an organic shaving cream that is the perfect choice when it comes to shaving.

The shaving cream is an aloe based formulation that also contains lavender and peppermint and is combined to create a cream base that is will make you think moisturizer rather than shaving cream. After one shave you will always choose Herban Cowboy over any of the traditional synthetic based commercial shaving products that you will find in most stores. This is another product line that took the time to do it right. They have several cosmetic chemists who helped develop these products and their speciality is creating non-synthetic based personal care.

Herban Cowboy also has an assortment of deodorants, an after shave balm that is free of dyes, alcohol and harsh synthetics and bar soap. Another great product line to make sure you put to use everyday.